

Bring Us Home

A Home for Every Heart

Imagine a place where everyone's worth is recognized—where laughter and shared stories fill the air. You hold the key to this extraordinary place, to a brighter, more hopeful future for some of your community's most vulnerable souls.

This is more than a campaign. It's a call to empower those living with developmental disabilities. It's about providing not just a house but a home—a place to live freely and find friendship.

From youth navigating the difficulties of adult life after foster care to older adults whose elderly parents can no longer care for them—this is a heartfelt plea: "Bring Us Home."

A Driver's License and a Dream

A young man living with developmental disabilities, Owen turned his life around thanks to the right support. Now he has a driver's license and works two part-time jobs!

Open the Door to Brighter Futures

Close your eyes for a moment. Picture a young adult with developmental disabilities, aged out of foster care, looking for a home. See the older disabled adult, now alone in the world after their elderly parents have passed on, facing the stark walls of an institutional setting like Long Term Care. They have no place to call home.

What if you could change their story? What if you hold the key that opens the door to a life-changing safe haven for North Perth's most vulnerable?

Imagine a place where the quiet joy of independence blends seamlessly with the warmth of community. A place so nurturing that it can only be called home. A home where every person has the room to thrive, to connect, and to live with dignity.

You can make this dream a reality. Help us raise $4 million to build a home for youth and adults with developmental disabilities.

“If you build it,
I can finally get my own place!”
— Owen

Decades of Dedication

For over 60 years, Community Living North Perth (CLNP) has been a beacon of hope for people with developmental disabilities and their families. It all started in 1958 when a group of visionary parents realized their children deserved more—more care, more education, and a sense of genuine belonging.

Through the years, this dedication has only deepened. Today, CLNP stands passionately committed to providing personalized support. This commitment is not a chapter from our history book—it's an ongoing promise, an unwavering vow to empower those who need it most.

But we can't do it without YOU. Much like hospitals, this charity runs on the fuel of benevolent hearts like yours. Your support is the lifeblood of our mission. Your generosity brings visions like "Bring Us Home" to life.

A Mother's Love

Helen is a vibrant 45-year-old with developmental disabilities. Her mom, now in her late 70s, has always been Helen's primary support. But after a recent fall, the strain of providing Helen's full-time care is becoming too much.

Your Values in Action

At the heart of "Bring Us Home" lies a simple truth: everyone deserves a place to call home—a community where they are not just accepted but valued. It's a philosophy rooted in the belief that every individual, no matter their abilities, has the right to lead a life filled with purpose and inclusion.

This isn't just our philosophy—it's yours too. It's your values reflected in action. "Bring us Home" is about so much more than a new building. It's about nurturing dreams, uplifting spirits—and above all—building a brighter, more inclusive tomorrow.

By joining us on this mission, you're not just a supporter—you're a dream-maker. You're shaping futures one life at a time, making the concept of 'home' a reality for those who need it most.

“If you build it, my daughter will be okay without me.”
— Margaret

Where Will We Go?

Imagine young adults with developmental disabilities suddenly aging out of foster care as they reach eighteen. What happens to them in a world that can be, at best, indifferent and, at worst, openly hostile? Where do they go?

Similarly, picture older adults with developmental disabilities facing a heartbreaking dilemma. Their aging parents, who have cared for them their entire lives, are becoming too frail to provide care—or worse: passing away. Where do these adults find refuge when their lifelong home is no longer an option?

In a world with ever-rising living costs and dwindling social safety nets, these vulnerable people are at risk of becoming invisible, their needs forgotten. They may be able to live independently, but to thrive—to feel safe, to be nurtured—they require a level of professional care and emotional support.

You have the power to rewrite their stories. Imagine providing these vulnerable people a place that shields them from the dangers of an uncaring world, that reintroduces the warmth of community, and that becomes—in every sense—a home.

When they wonder, “Where do we go now?” Your leadership will answer: “You come home. To Listowel. To us.”

Seeking Stability, Finding Hope

Young Noah lives with developmental and mental health challenges. Stability and independence are not just goals for him—they're urgent needs.

Beyond Bricks and Mortar—Living in Community

The vision you're bringing to life goes beyond bricks and mortar—it's a place of community, safety, and independence for youth and adults living with developmental disabilities.

“If you build it,
I can build myself.”
— Noah

Eight full apartments, complete with private bathrooms, kitchens, and living rooms, offer residents the dignity of their own space, equipped for comfortable and independent living. These individual living spaces ensure privacy and personal freedom, while spacious common areas offer opportunities for residents to gather, share meals, and create bonds of friendship.

With the support of 24-hour professional care, this isn't just a space for people to exist—it's a place where they can genuinely thrive. Families will rest easy, knowing their loved ones are safe and supported, while residents enjoy the freedom to navigate their community, cultivating both self-reliance and friendships.

Here, they're not just residents—they're neighbors, friends, and family. This isn't just a home. It's a declaration of what community—at its best—can be. You're not just building a structure—you're laying the foundation for brighter tomorrows.

Preparing for Life After Loss

Robert, 55, understands that his older sister is very sick and doesn't have much time left. She's been his rock, his caregiver, and the thought of life without her is unbearable.

We Can Be Champions

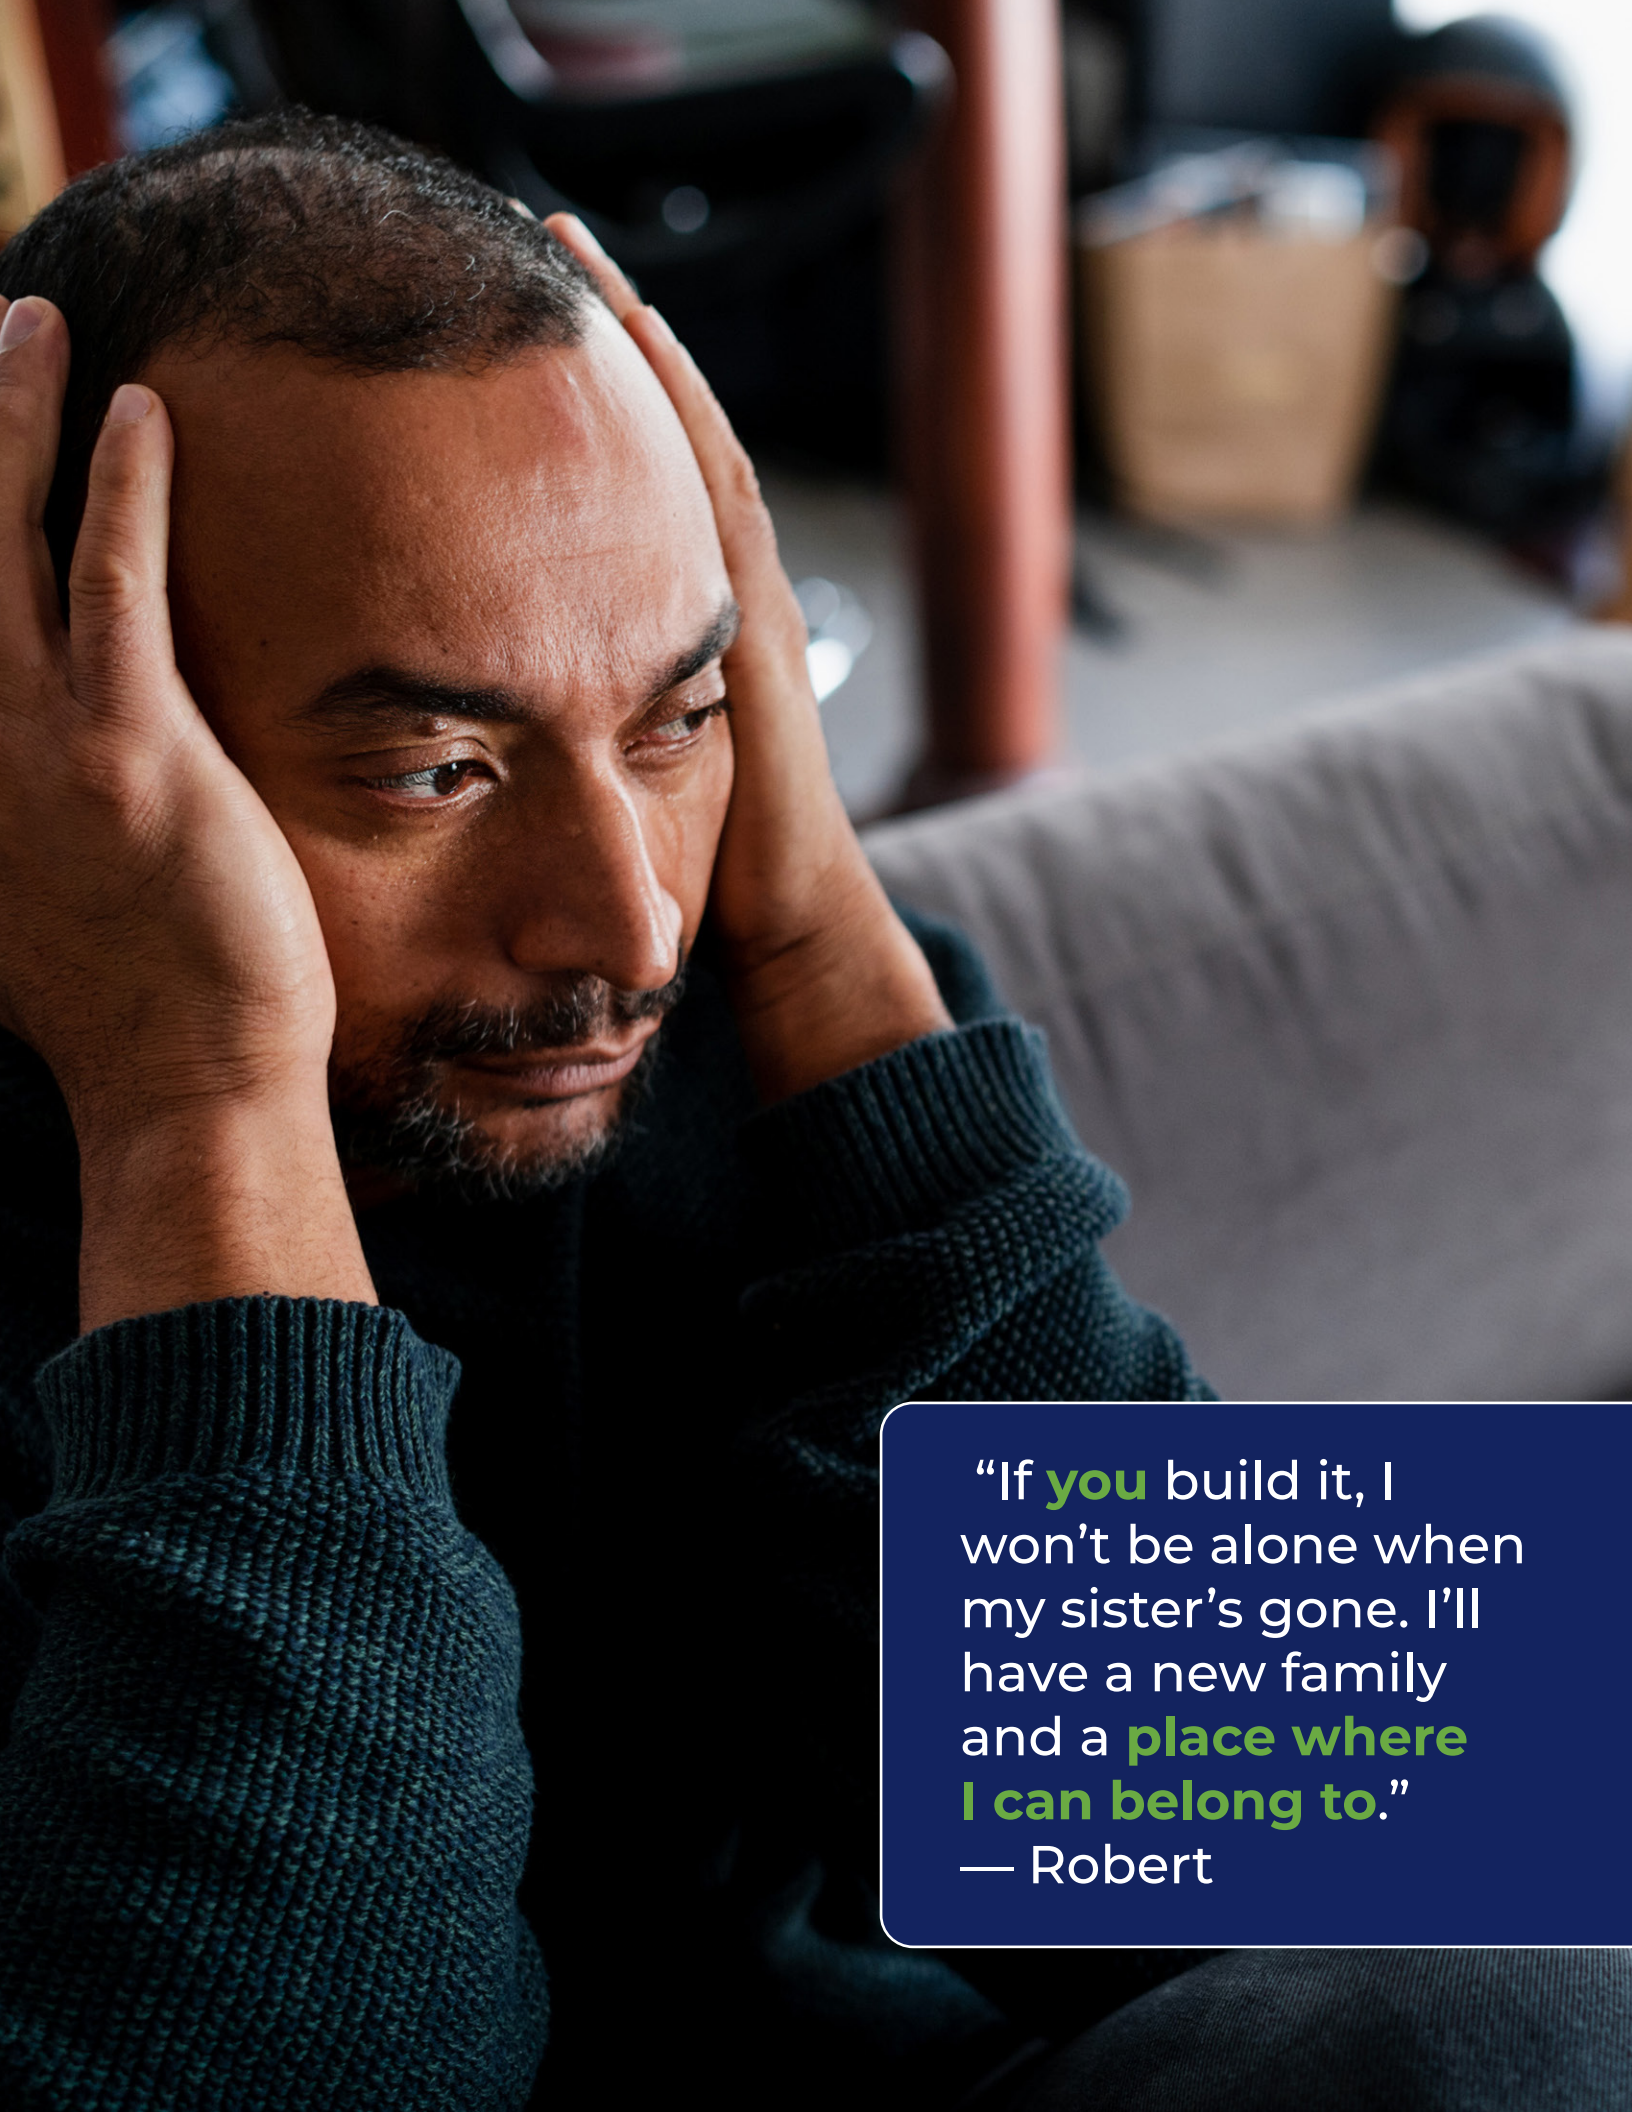

Imagine being the champion in someone's life story—the one who steps up and makes a difference when all seems lost. What if you could be that champion for youth and adults living with developmental disabilities?

Your extraordinary gift to the "Bring Us Home" campaign will do just that. We're asking for your heroic effort to help us raise $4 million. Every single dollar will go toward building a unique home where youth and adults with developmental disabilities can live in safety and dignity.

Here's the life-changing community you'll help create:

- Eight Full Apartments: Each with a bathroom, kitchen, and living room, giving residents their own space for privacy, comfort, and independence.

“If you build it, I won’t be alone when my sister’s gone. I’ll have a new family and a place where I can belong to.”

— Robert

- Shared Gathering Spaces: Areas dedicated for cooking, sharing meals, game-nights, and simple joys together.
- Adaptive Technologies: State-of-the-art equipment to simplify and secure everyday activities and tasks.
- 24-Hour Professional Care: Round-the-clock staff ensuring residents are safe so their families can rest easy.

By contributing to this monumental effort, you're not just opening doors—you're transforming lives. You're not just making a donation—you're making dreams come true.

This is the moment for a champion like you to step forward and give. Don't wait. The need is urgent, the time is now, and the person with the power to enact this incredible change is YOU.

Answer the Heartfelt Plea

You've read the stories. You've felt the urgency. You've seen the vision—a home where personal freedom and community warmth coexist. Now, the story that remains to be written is yours—how you choose to be the champion, how you answer the call to, please, "Bring Us Home."

You stand at a pivotal moment. Your compassionate action today can bring us closer to a world where every heart has a home, where every individual lives a life touched by dignity, independence, and the power of community.

Please, help us raise $4 million to make this dream a tangible reality. Your gift is a promise fulfilled, a future secured, and a life transformed.

Don't leave youth and adults like Owen, Helen, Noah, and Robert wondering: "Where will we go?" Let your gift open doors.

Answer their heartfelt plea
